READ ALL INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY PRIOR TO USE OR CLEANING

Before using for the first time

Wash cookware thoroughly in warm, soapy water. Dry immediately.

Cooking

- High heat can damage or discolor cookware and overheating might cause food to burn.
- Although handles are designed to stay cool to the touch, the use of potholders is always preferred and recommended.
- Always heat gradually and not abruptly.
- Never submerge or pour cold water on cookware while still hot – this can cause damage.

Cleaning

Although dishwasher safe, handwashing is always recommended to keep the finish looking shiny and clean.

- Use warm soapy water. Always dry immediately to avoid water marks.
- You may soak cookware to remove burnt on food.
- Never use steel wool sponges or other sponges that may scratch. Do not use abrasive cleansers or detergents.
- For stubborn stains, bring 1-part vinegar to 3-parts water to a boil. Remove from heat and let it sit for 30 minutes.
- To avoid undissolved salt stains and pits, add salt only after food begins to cook or after liquids begin to boil.
- Any hard water stains do not alter performance and are purely cosmetic.

Cautions

- Match the size of the bottom of the pan to burner size.
- Do not boil dry. Do not leave pot empty on high heat.
- Use low to medium heat and do not use cookware under a broiler.
- Always use potholders to avoid burns. Handles will heat up if placed in an oven.
